

Not a survivor but a fighter

I never chose this path of life it chose me
I didn't set out to be strong
I just wanted to be happy

I grew strong in the process the twists and the turns the failures and falls tried to bring me down

I smiled as life tried to consume me in the fire of the struggle It knew my warrior heart which was forging in the flames

I'm not a survivor
I'm a fighter
